

DISTRIBUTORS AGAINST HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Human Trafficking Awareness Training Initiative

Training Checklist

STEP 1:

Awareness Training:

- Show the training video to staff.
  - Consider inviting your state attorney general or a member of their team to conduct an in-person (or virtual) training.
  - Consider inviting elected officials to come to your warehouse or record remarks to show before screening the video.
- Provide staff with tip cards listing human trafficking red flag behaviors.
- Make the training video part of your company's onboarding process.
- Fill out the completion form on the NBWA to get your company's certificate and download the badge for your website.

Congratulations!

You're now officially Distributors Against Human Trafficking certified!

If you want to do more, NBWA has additional suggestions to further your impact.

STEP 2:

Community Engagement:

- Use the social media toolkit to share your involvement.
- Look up state-specific statistics on human trafficking.
- Download and hang a breakroom poster on spotting the signs of human trafficking.
- Use the letter templates to notify elected officials about your involvement.
  - Examples: governor, state attorney general, members of Congress, state legislators
- Partner with retail organizations, such as your state's restaurant association, and make the training available to them.
- Create posters with the human trafficking hotline number that can be given to retail partners to post.
- Partner with a local or state non-profit that is working to end human trafficking.

Please reach out to NBWA for support with any of these efforts.
